BMW X4 Sports Activity Coupe

Based on the X3, with bonnet, front wings and front doors shared between the models. It can be expected that the X4 will include a high percentage of HSS (High Strength Steels) in the impact absorbing structure with inclusions of AHSS (Advanced High Strength Steels) and probably press hardened materials. Body length is 4671mm (+14mm over the X3) but is 36mm lower than the X3. The front and rear seats have been lowered to allow a more coupe-like seating position, though the car can seat 5 passengers.

Technology :

Driving Assistant Plus (with City Braking function – AEB system) is available on all trim levels (with automatic transmission) for £1400.

Adaptive LED headlamps are available.

Trim levels : SE, xLine, M Sport

SE models feature front and rear park sensors, 18" alloy wheels, Xenon headlamps and an automatically opening tailgate. The interior includes heated front seats and the BMW Business Media package as standard. xLine models receive an upgrade to an exclusive 18" alloy wheel, sports seats, xLine leather upholstery and is finished with Satin Aluminium exterior trim.

M Sport receive the M Sport body pack, 19" alloy M Sport wheels and high gloss Shadow Line exterior trims.

Lane Change Warning system (LDW) is available for £440 (this requires folding, auto-dimming mirrors £300).

Adaptive headlamps are available for £490. Adaptive LED headlamps are also available (£990).
